

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The fund provides short- and medium-term financing to promising businesses by investing in private debt. Financing is mainly provided in the form of direct lending, growth financing, bridge financing, mezzanine-type financing and other financial instruments.

Investors may purchase units of the fund each month and, after a lock-in period of 12 months, may redeem them each calendar quarter. This flexible model offers high liquidity and thus is attractive to investors who seek to combine return on investment with the ability to realise their investment quickly.
